of the affirmative evidence which our circulation

that we were educated in a school which usught

us to speak fearlessly our views of public men

us. We wish it distinctly understood that when-

Accident on the Michigan Central Railroad-Three Lives Lost.

The evening train which left Detroit on Tuesday, at 6 o'clock, for this place, on arriving at a road which crosses the track about three miles this side of Jackson, ran over a large bull which had laid himself down upon the track, with his back towards the approaching train. The shock threw the locomotive entirely off the track, and smashed the emigrant car to pieces. The Engineer, Mr. Chock, of Defroit, and the Fireman, Mr. Fuller, of Marshal, and a young man who got on the engine at Jackson to come on to Marshal, were all instantly killed, and several of the emigrants, in the cur which was broken, were slightly injured.

The engineer leaves a wife and two children in Detroit, and the fireman, Mr. Fuller, had a brother killed on the road about three years ago:—

The Railroad Celebration at Madison. The extension of the Milwaukes and Mississippe Railroad to Madiron was duly celebrated or Turkley last at the capital of our State. The on trace, consisting of 31 cars, drawn by the 1wo incomption Madison and Milwaukee, united, and freighted with upwards of 1200 of our catagra, including two of our Fire Companies No. 3 and 6, with their engines, music and a parce of antillery, left the Depot punctually at that pert " o'clock in the morning. The element were all propitious and the heavens smiled brightly upon the train as it dragged its swift length drevery point on the route, where the cuts supposed, accessions were made to the numthat of passengers, gradually swelling the aggregate to upwards of 1800. At Whitewater a large concourse had assembled at the Depot, who saluted the Excursion train with hearty cheers, and at Mitten a numerous delegation from Janesville joined the party. Long before the train reached Madison, every seat and all the standing room in the care were occupied; but the air was fresh and grateful; the recent rains had effectually laid the dust on the track, and crowded as they were, the passengers were in the best of spirits and fully re-cired to enjoy their holiday. The approach to Mindison by rail is very beautiful At different points within two or three miles, accessional glinopses of the town may be cases as the train speeds along, until at length, as you shoot through a cut, which divides a gracefully rounded hill, the fair bosom of the Third Lake, with Madison glittering upon its further shore, bursts upon the delighted vision. The arraving train of Tuesday was heralded by the amultaneous screams of two powerful steam winsties, the thunders of the loud-speaking canmet, the resonant strains of a brass band, and the movie of a thousand men. It was watched and we could by a concourse of full six thousand percise, men, women, and children; residents of Madison and its vicinity. The guests were receiv on at the depot by the President of the Day, Mr. 4. E. Risn, who made a brief and appropriate address, to which Mr. A. Fixen, Jr., in behalf of the afficers and directors of the road and the citizen of Milwankee, made an eloquent raply. A pro comion was then formed, under the direction of the Marshal, Mr. E. B. Draw, and moved through some of the principal streets to the beautiful square surrounding the Capital.

Here the Committee of Arrangements had epies i tables and provided ment and drink for Tur people—the extreme number of visitors they had looked for-but instead of 700, there were water seven thousand, hungry, thirsty, and dus-13. and desperate was the charge and dreadful e have they made, upon the fables and their contents. A war of extersionation-war to the while"-was releatleesly waged by the invading host, and in a very few moments not even a loaf ed bread survived to tell the tale. Many in the crowd, failing to obtain the wherewithal to satis-1. honger, flow to the hotels and eating-houses and relief only to find the places all taken by persona as hungry as themselves. Meanwhile private hospitality was freely and liberally offered as all in need of refreshment, and every offort made to provide for the wants of the mexpectedia large army of visitors. It was of course mig-saible, at so short notice, to care for all, and caste a number returned by the afternoon train at a welcek, comowhat out of humor at their compaisory fast. Few of those however, who remained till the early morning train, had any Cause to complain of short commons, or scan contrast.

After the collation in the Park, our Firemer tried their machines for the amusement of their country friends. Quite a number had gathered on the long turret of the Capital House to watch Line exercises, congratulating themselves in beby a man who evidently was making his debut. Various other inidents transpired during the day, and not the least surreable among them was a meeting of Old Settlers, in the back parlor of the State Bank, presided over by HENRY WILLIAMS, Esq. of Wauwatosa, with the able assistance of Messrs D. A. J. UPHAM, C. H. All atrived home safely and in good season, thanks to the careful and admirable management of the Superintendent, Engineers and Conductors of the itall Road.

The occasion to us was one of unalloyed en joyment. We have rarely made so pleasant an excutation. It was indeed a subject of regret that our Madison friends had not been forewarmed of the number of their visitors, so that timely provision could have been made for all; but we mind do our fellow citizens at the Capital the subject to say that their will was of the best and day morning, gets to Chicago on Friday evening, their hospitality unstituted. The Eclipse of the Sun To-day. Astronomers tell us that on this 26th day o

May, 1854, occurs on Eclipse of the Sun on a grand scale. The first time of its occurrence, so far as is known, was July 2d, 1313, and this on and it will be visible again in 1872, and in 2593. Some of our readers will doubtless see it in 1872, but we doubt whether any of them will have the pleasure of comparing this ecord with the eclipse of the latter remote date.

A committee of twenty distinguished astrononers has been appointed to watch the phenomenon, and make record thereof, in different parts of the country. While they are sharpening their pencils, and arranging their chronometers, we of female warriors from Jersey. Old folks and have prepared the following minutes for our readers. Inasmuch as the eclipse is not an ordinary occurrence, and casts everything else into the shade, and we do not wish our readers to remain any more in the dark than other people as to its phenomens, we recommend their attention to the

And there they waited till the sun went out, and twi-light came to catch the slightest glance of each femule warrior's glittering lance—but possibly came, and the multitude went home grumbling that Greely had sold them again.

The season opened last night at Castle Garden, and notwithstauding the threatening aspect of the weather, there were nearly four thousand people present—the seats have been newly cushioned, and more gas introduced. Beside the large centre chandelier there are four others on either side with twenty jets, which added to the thirty six others attached to the twelve posts ascending from the gallery to the ceiling, are efficient for all purposes; it is by the additional lights, the bundred in number, running the entire front of the immense gallery, that the great effect is produced. Although I listened to Jullien's monster band last Fall* with much pleasure, I was more and a half degrees of longitude, and fifty-six deand a nait degrees of iongitude, and htty-six degrees of latitude. The duration of the ring, where central, in Washington territory, will be four and a half minutes, and in New York and New England somewhat less than four.

The eclipse is termed annular, because the apparent diameter of the moon being less than that of the sun, leaves a ring of light only visible of the latter. It will be central and largest in Canada West, in the North-eastern counties of New York, in Vermont, and the southern part of New went sleighriding a long time ago"-the merry Hampshire, its path being about 100 miles wide, and the ring being clearly visible within that Gazers at the heavens in this quarter will please note that in Milwaukee, the eclipse commences at 3 o'clock and 2 minutes P. M., the time of great est obscuration is 4 o'clock and 26 minutes, and the curtain rises at 5 o'clock and 41 minutes, the duration of time being two hours and 39 minutes; the magnitude at Milwaukee being 10.25 digits. Great Arrival of Emigrants at New York.

On Friday, Saturday, and Sunday last, the following vessels arrived at New York, from the ports, and bringing the number of passengers, set opposite their names. The total number of passungers is 21,541, in three days! We give the list manuch as many of our readers doubtless have friends on the way, of whose sailing they may have heard, and for whose arrival they are anxious:

The members who compose the Cabinet are as much opposed to one another in principle as a Tork is to a Christian, a Jew to a Gentile. Nothing has held the fires of fanaticism in check for the last few years, but the spirit of those compromises, which rested upon the good and pighted faith of both parties.—Weaken the bonds of that faith, and the radical portions of either party in the North will assume a position outside of party organizations as they have existed, leaving the old organizations in the minority as a reward for the perfidy towards sacred obligations. Collision between the Steamer Travelle and Schooner Kirk White.

About 7 P. M. on Wednesday, the schooner Eire Whise, bound to Milwankee from Buffalo, landed with coal, stoves, and a deck load of lumise, when about four miles below Port Washingzon, was run into by the steamer Traveller, which was bound to Milwauker from Sheboygan. The steamer scruck the schooner on the larboard side about ten feet abase the fore rigging, crushing in. her side, and leaving the indenture of the boat's cut-water a foot deep in the side of the schooler, and incaking the rail on the starboard side. This was ness likely done by the shifting of the deck land. The schooner, at first, made water fast, but by listing her, with the deck load to the starboards one pump kept her free. The Traveller towed her in to the dock in the river, in time for the stessmer to take her regular trip to Chicago. There manages to no doubt that the collision was unacoldable, from the fog, as the steamer was within her own length of the schooner before the latter was seen, and the engines were immediately reexact. The steamer was not proceeding at more that six miles per bour. The captain and mate of the schooler, strange as it may appear, both say they feit no shock, though both were on deck at the time. The damage will not be heavy. We consider it a duty to suggest here, that all sailing result should be compelled to carry a bell, proportionate with their tonnage, and be compelled ring it every two minutes in foggy weather. With such a precaution as we have suggested, this collision would not have happened-a collision which, test for the deck load, would have sunk the schoon er, and, most likely, her crew, SERIOUS ACCIDENT .- A little girl was very seriously injured on Wednesday afternoon by setting her foot crushed between the draw of the Walker's Point Bridge and the Abutment. The flash was almost entirely stripped from the foot. She was conveyed home in much suffering, and, at being ascertained that she was in noor circumstances, a subscription was started among the liberal men around the docks and warehouses, and a handsome sum raised for her benefit.

We are andebted to C. J. GILBERT, Wisconsin St., for a copy of this delightful book. Those who have become acquainted, as few have not, with Mr. Shelton's peculiarities of style, as displayed in "Salander the Dragon," the "Rector o St. Bardolph's," and other late works, will have had their interest south excited by preparatory notices of this one before us. Whatever expects. tions as to simplicity and cleverness of plot, skill in management of the few characters, and felicity of expression may have been formed, they will he amply realized in perusing the pages of Crystalline, and following the fortunes of the gentle Heires of Fall Down Castle.

Gilbert has a new supply of this and many other pleasant books.

A FREE FIGUR.-A free fight, open to all ages and sexes, took place last night at the foot of Huron street. The trouble commenced by two children quarreling, when the mothers interfered, hen the fathers, and so on, till the number amounted to nearly a hundred. The muss was stopped by the interference of the Marshal and some of he constables.
